OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 10, 1862.

The Impending Crisis to the South.

It is related of a Syracusan tyrant, that being envied by a friend for the elegance of his house, the luxury of his table and the greatness of his military power, he inducted his envious friend into the enjoyment of all that he had spoken of. The man, for a day, revelled in the possession of what he had thought to be the consummation of all earthly happiness. But, while reclining on a voluptuous couch, surrounded by obsequious attendants, and apparently lacking nothing of completing his satisfaction, he chanced to look up and there beheld that which made his blood curdle—a sword suspended by a single hair. If, the Grecian historian had intended by this one anecdote to show the relation of all tyrants, conspirators, and evil-doers in general, to the world at large, he could never have imagined anything more apposite. The sword of the law hangs suspended by a single hair. This sword now hangs over the heads of the guilty authors of the great rebellion. If the first day of January, 1863, rises upon Jefferson Davis and his co-traitors in a state of contumacy, the sword falls.

The President of the United States, has proclaimed his intention to declare the slaves of all persons resident in States that may be in armed rebellion to the laws of the nation on the first day of January, 1863, free forever thereafter. There is not in the history of man an event which is comparable in magnitude to the emancipation of four million slaves, and entirely changing their relation to more than that number of white people—to say nothing of their connection with twenty millions of people in the Northern and Border States. Unless men pretend to arrogate a degree of foresight which is claimed for the Hebrew prophets alone, it passes the comprehension of any man to tell what will come of this movement. It is anticipated, by the Unionists, that, when the national armies march through the rebellious States, and gather the negroes together as they go—giving them liberty and the right to take the lands and provide for themselves—that the South—seeing ruin impending—will cease their opposition and appeal to that Constitution, which was ever their sufficient protection, and to the magnanimity of Americans, which was never appealed to in vain, to stay the hand of destruction. If the army carries out in good faith the President's views, and if it is recruited to the proper strength to do it, there is but little doubt that the Emancipation movement will subjugate the rebels or destroy them. If, on the contrary, the efforts of the Unionists are divided, and their councils distracted, it will prove a nullity. And, if the loyal States should so disagree among themselves as to neglect the vigorous prosecution of the war, they must not imagine that the Confederates will omit to take advantage of them, to acquire whatever territories they may want to strengthen their position. No divisions reign in their councils. They do not desire a restoration of the Union, unless they may, as heretofore, reign sovereigns in it.

There is not a true Union man who would not rather see slavery die than the Union. But there are plenty of men, who are not satisfied that the alternative of the death of one or the other is presented. Those who think the time is not ripe for Emancipation—that it is not demanded by the exigencies of the times, should recollect that the alternative is also presented to the South to return to their allegiance or perish. Is there a patriot in all the land who would not rejoice to see the South appeal to the law to stay the sword from falling? even if slavery was saved thereby.

"The rain falls upon the just and the unjust," alike; and there never was a rebel so blackened with treason that he did not have the same claim to a fair adjudication of his rights before the Courts of the United States, that is, or was, possessed by the purest patriot living, or who may have fallen in the front of the armies of the Union.

INDIAN OUTRAGES.—The Postmaster at Albeeville, Klamath county, California, has been murdered by the Indians. The post-office at Bald Hill, in the same county, has been burned by the same people. Both of those places were close to Fort Gaston, the military headquarters of the district. Col. Lippitt is thought to be too strictly scientific to whip the Indians of the coast range. In fact, all the Indians ask is to be opposed by strictly scientific men; and it will afford them a chance to keep up the war without much danger to themselves, with the advantage of being able to steal all that they need to eat.

SASKATCHEWAN MINES.—For two years past we have had occasional reports of gold discoveries on the Saskatchewan river. During the present season several parties of adventurers have visited the South branch of the river, and confirm previous reports. The Saskatchewan interlocks with the Northern waters of the Columbia, and flows East into Lake Winnipeg. The waters of this lake discharge into Hudson's Bay.

Miscellaneous Paragraphs.

Kerosene, it is discovered, is an infallible specific for the destruction of vermin on cattle, or about the house.

Mr. L. Whittingham has been appointed Post-Master at the newly established post-office at Wallula.

A new road is being built from Walla Walla to Auburn, by a joint stock company. It will be finished this winter.

There are five hundred men in the Florence mines, and supplies enough for six times that number until spring.

The Mobile Register admits that, nearly ten thousand rebels have taken the oath of allegiance to the United States Government.

The merchants and packers of Oro Fino, have determined to take the dust of that vicinity at $15 an ounce. It has been going heretofore at $16.

Dr. J. B. Buker, of Lewiston, has been elected representative for Nez Perces county, W. T., to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Dennistoun.

Jim Lane is reported to be on the way to Oregon or Washington with a drove of cattle. The story is doubtless false, as he was a short time since drilling negro regiments in Kansas.

The Marysville Appeal speaks of "the people of Lewiston, Salmon river," as if Lewiston was on Salmon river. We recommend our cotemporary to buy a map or borrow one.

The President has notified the commandant at Fort Walla Walla that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is suspended, and that military arrests cannot be questioned by the civil authorities.

Some secessionist spoke of John Morgan as a dashing cavalry officer. Prentice responds that, Morgan is the biggest horse-thief in the United States, and ought to live five thousand years so as to serve one year in the penitentiary for every horse he has stolen.

The loyal members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Missouri, have held a Convention and censured the Annual Conference for failing to expel its disloyal members. The Convention declared that, the question of slavery should be dealt with by the civil authorities, exclusively.

In 1848, John Van Buren was in favor of the abolition of slavery, and declared himself the "unmitigated enemy" of that institution. In 1862, John is a pro-slavery man. Parallels to John, in this matter, are common on this coast. Some of our soundest Conservatives are old-fashioned Abolitionists.

Gen. Bragg tried to work upon the prejudices of the Western soldiers, in the Union army, to induce them to forsake their connection with the Eastern States. The Western soldiers showed how much they were affected by his insidious advances by thrashing him and his compatriot, Price, at Iuka, Corinth, and Perryville.

The Californians are in a quandary about the meeting of their legislature. If the amendments to the Constitution, adopted at the last election, are in force, the sessions of the legislature are to be biennial, and to commence on the first Monday of December; but if they are not in force, then, the next session is to commence on the first day of January next. The latter course is to be taken.

THE WEATHER HERE AND UP THE COLUMBIA.—The Lewiston Age says that, the average temperature at that place is about thirty degrees above zero, or at the freezing point. From the Cascades up, the weather has been sharp for ten days past. The ice has been running so thick between the Dalles and Cascades that the steamer has been barely able to make the trip. Two weeks since, there was ice at Walla Walla for boys and men too, to slide or skate on. During this time, the much abused climate of the Willamette has been in complete contrast to that of the upper country. There has not been an unpleasantly cold day at Portland this fall, and just as the weather is at its coldest above, the average temperature here is sixty or sixty-five degrees above zero. It is true that our climate is a little damp, but it might be worse.

PRAISEWORTHY MOVEMENT OF THE SOLDIERS AT VANCOUVER.—Company "I," of the First Regiment W. T. Volunteers, and Company "A," of the Ninth Infantry, stationed for the winter at Vancouver, have united their efforts and established a fine reading room and literary club. The commanding officer of the post, Major Lugenbeel, has furnished the Club a commodious and comfortable room, which is amply supplied with books, papers, etc.; and arrangements are being perfected for a series of lectures for the winter, the opening one to be delivered by Father McCarty, Post-Chaplain. Suitable rooms can be obtained at almost any military post, and we would like to hear of the example being generally imitated. In an enterprise so conducive to the intelligence and morality of the soldier, commanding officers should render all the assistance in their power.

ELOQUENT PICTURE.—The Golden Age is in favor of the division of Washington Territory. The following eloquent extract—italics and all—is from that journal. Excepting the palpable exaggeration it contains, this glowing paragraph may be called partially correct:

"Of what use to us is a capitol of Washington Territory located at Olympia on the forty-ninth parallel. During four months of last year, no communication could be had with the place at all. Its distance is between seven and eight hundred miles, interspersed with huge forests, roaring rivers, and rocky bound shores of ice, with impassable barriers of snow. One of the editors of the Washington Statesman was elected to the Legislature, by the voters of Walla Walla, and before he left to perform those legislative duties to his constituents, he made his will, settled all of his worldly accounts, and bid his friends adieu until next summer and perhaps forever!"

WASHINGTON LEGISLATURE.—The House organized on the 6th, by the election of T. M. Reed as Speaker; Jared S. Hurd, Chief Clerk; [illegible] Richardson, Assistant Clerk; [illegible] Mace, Sergeant-at-Arms; and David Shelton, Jr., Door-keeper. The Council was expected to organize on Monday last. Three members are yet absent—Messrs. Simms, Moore and Bledsoe.

EASTERN WASHINGTON MINES.—The Washington Statesman, of the 6th inst., says that the mines on Beaver Head, a tributary of the Missouri, are paying from $16 to $20 a day, to the man. As high as $130 a day, to the man, has been made in these mines, but the instances are few in proportion to the whole. Some of the best diggings are in dry ravines, from whence the dirt is carted a considerable distance to the river. Water is plenty, but no ditches have been dug for its distribution. Flour and beef could be had in abundance, in these mines, but groceries were scarce. Boots were selling at $20 a pair. Great excitement existed at Salt Lake in relation to these mines, and caravans of wagons containing provisions are loaded from thence for Beaver Head and Big Hole. News of the discoveries has reached St. Louis, and two lines of twelve steamers, in all, will be started for Fort Benton, in the spring. It is thought that the Missouri can be ascended to within 150 miles of Beaver Head mines. The miners have come to an agreement with the Bannocks and Snakes, who are willing to have the mines worked. Good agricultural lands exist close to the mines; sufficient in extent to supply a large mining population with the staples of domestic produce.

CLOSING THEM OUT.—Gen. Grant and Gen. Sherman, with the old soldiers of Donelson and Shiloh, are marching on Jackson, Mississippi. They are likely to meet the enemy at Lagrange or Abbeyville, in that State. Whenever they do, a fight will ensue, certain. Gen. Rosecrans will probably devote himself, in earnest, to cleaning out East Tennessee. Generals Steele and Hovey are at Helena, and if they are not engaged in Curtis' cotton speculation, they may be counted on to assist Gen. Schofield in taking and holding the capital of Arkansas. Gen. McClernand's expedition has before this time steamed down to Vicksburg. It is composed of a powerful land force, and the entire iron-clad flotilla of the Mississippi river. With the co-operation of Gen. Banks in Texas, the prospect is that the rebellion in the valley of the Mississippi, and west of that river, will be crushed out before the opening of spring.

LIBERAL.—John Sanborn, proprietor of a rich mining claim, at Don Pedro's Bar, on the Tuolumne river, has donated, unsolicited, the liberal sum of $1,000 to the Patriotic Fund, and gives besides $100 per month to the same glorious cause as long as the war continues.

NEW TO-DAY.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued and directed to me out of the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah, in favor of J. F. Miller against Lansing Stout, for the sum of $1061 63 judgment, for want of personal property I have levied upon all the right, title and interest the said Stout had on the first day of April, 1862, in the following described real estate in the city of Portland, Oregon: Lots No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Block No. 172; Lots No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 in Block No. 211. Notice is hereby given that I shall sell the above-described real estate at public auction on Saturday, the 10th day of January, 1863, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the sum of $1061 63, with interest thereon, at the rate of one and one-half per cent per month from the 10th September, 1862, and costs of suit.

Lots No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Block No. 172 will be sold upon the premises. Lots No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Block No. 211, will be sold in front of the Court House door. Sale to commence in the order of this notice, at eleven o'clock A. M.

R. J. LAID, Sheriff
Multnomah County.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT AND ROBBERY.—A man, by the name of Thomas Kane, was robbed and brutally beaten on the night of the 5th of November, under the following circumstances: Kane was in a saloon on First street, on the night in question, with a man named W. H. Wills and another called Josiah Roberts, who also answers to several other sirnames and Christian names. Kane happened to remark, that he was going to see some female acquaintance, when Wills volunteered to make him acquainted with another that might prove more agreeable to him. Accompanied by Roberts, they went up one of the streets leading from the river, until at length the woods back of town were reached. A halt was called, on some frivolous pretext, and Kane was knocked down by Wills, who then proceeded to relieve him of $75 in coin and some ounces of gold dust. After this, Kane was beaten until he became insensible, and, on awakening from his stupor, found himself blinded by his bruises. The assault took place near midnight, and it was near morning before Kane found his way back to the town. By advice of the officers of police he kept quiet. In the meantime, the officers of the law were on the track of the offender. They visited Vancouver, Oregon City and returned to Portland a day or two since, and were arrested night before last. Yesterday afternoon they were examined before Justice Anderson, and committed to jail, to take their trial at the next term of the Circuit Court for the crime committed. Wills' bonds were fixed at $500, and Roberts' at $250. The complaining witness' statements were strongly corroborated.

THE PAN-TEC-NA-THEC-A.—The second exhibition of the Pan-tec-na-theca took place last night, to a large and discriminating assemblage. Among the spectators, there were many who had witnessed some part of the objects or scenes represented. The testimony of each is in favor of the truthfulness of that object or scene of which personal knowledge is had. Among the presents to be distributed to-night, is an elegant Japanese cabinet, valued at $25.

An important decision, by Judge Shattuck, in relation to Ditch Claims, will appear to-morrow.

NO LATER.—We received no later Eastern news by stage, last evening.

THE POSTAL CURRENCY.—The National Bank Note Company having brought the daily delivery of postage currency up to $58,000, there is now a slight falling off, owing to the process of some changes in the arrangements, but this will soon be recovered, and the daily delivery of currency carried up to $100,000. N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 5th.

THE LATE ELECTIONS.—The President takes the result of the New York elections quite philosophically, and, will doubtless profit by the lesson. When Colonel Forney inquired of him how he felt about New York, Lincoln replied: "Somewhat like that boy in Kentucky, who stubbed his toe while running to see his sweetheart. The boy said he was too big to cry, and far too badly hurt to laugh."

Portland R. A. Chapter No. 3.—Regular Convocation Thursday evening, 11th inst. A full attendance requested, as officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

By order of the M. E. H. P.

Dr. Hall's Balsam.—This medicine is a scientific remedy for Consumption in all its various stages, and is especially efficacious for a common Cold or Cough. When taken according to directions, it gives immediate relief, and in a short time effects a permanent cure.

General Agents for the Pacific Coast,
REDINGTON & CO.,
416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco.

White's Fever and Ague Drops.—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure. In Ague especially, one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Prepared only by ROBERT WHITE, Chemist and Druggist, Main street, Placerville, and Broadway, Upper Placerville. For sale by all respectable Druggists throughout the State.

Wholesale Agents, EDWARD HALL & CO., Wholesale Druggists, 538 Washington street, San Francisco, to whom all orders should be addressed. oct18.15w3m

White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a Knuckle, giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest, most durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

(Late from the Cincinnati College of Dentists,)

Office and Laboratory, No. 10, Alder street, Four Doors from Front, Portland, Ogn.

HAVING secured the services of Dr. C. H. MACK, formerly of New York city, and late of St. Louis, who is an experienced and skillful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods, namely: GOLD, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, PORCELAIN BASE, GUM ENAMEL, RUBBER ATTACHMENT, CHEOLITE, CONTINUOUS GUM, MICA and ENAMELED PLATE WORK. Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life-like appearance to any artificial teeth in use.

Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists; and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours. nov4.tf

LADD, WEBSTER & CO'S FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a tight lock-stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all goods that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with ease; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

OFFICIAL.

Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC—No. 160.]

AN ACT for the better government of the navy of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act the following articles be adopted and put in force for the government of the navy of the United States.

ARTICLE 1.

The commanders of all fleets, squadrons, naval stations and vessels belonging to the navy, are strictly enjoined and required to show in themselves a good example of virtue, honor, patriotism and subordination, to be vigilant in inspecting the conduct of all who may be placed under their command, to guard against and suppress all dissolute and immoral practices, and to correct all who may be guilty of them according to the laws and regulations of the navy, upon pain of such punishment as a general court martial may think proper to inflict.

ARTICLE 2.

The commanders of vessels and naval stations to which chaplains are attached shall cause divine service to be performed on Sunday, whenever the weather and other circumstances will allow it to be done; and it is earnestly recommended to all officers, seamen and others in the naval service diligently to attend at every performance of the worship of Almighty God. Any irreverent or unbecoming behavior during divine service shall be punished as a general or summary court martial shall direct.

ARTICLE 3.

The punishment of death, or such other punishment as a court martial shall adjudge, may be inflicted on any person in the naval service—

First. Who shall make, or attempt to make, or unite with any mutinous assembly, or knowing of the same, or of any intended mutiny, shall not forthwith communicate it to his superior or commanding officer, or being witness to or present at any mutiny, shall not do his utmost to suppress it.

Second. Or shall disobey the lawful orders of his superior officer, or strike, or assault, or attempt or threaten to strike or assault him while in the execution of the duties of his office.

Third. Or shall give, hold, or entertain any intercourse or intelligence to or with any enemy or rebel without leave from the President of the United States, the Secretary of the Navy, the commander-in-chief of the fleet, or the commander of a squadron, or in case of a vessel acting singly, from his commanding officer.

Fourth. Or shall desert, or entice others to desert to an enemy or rebel.

Fifth. Or shall receive any message or letter from an enemy or rebel, or be aware of the unlawful reception of such letter or message, and fail to take the earliest opportunity to inform his superior or commanding officer thereof.

Sixth. Or shall, in time of war, desert or betray his trust, or entice or aid others to desert or betray their trust, or shall sleep upon his watch, or leave his station before regularly relieved.

Seventh. Or shall intentionally or willfully suffer any vessel of the navy to be stranded, or run upon rocks or shoals, or improperly hazarded, or shall willfully or maliciously injure any vessel of the navy, or any part of her tackle, armament, or equipment, whereby the safety of the vessel shall be hazarded, or the lives of the crew exposed to danger, or shall set on fire or otherwise unlawfully destroy any public property not then in the possession of an enemy, pirate or rebel.

Eighth. Or shall strike, or attempt to strike, the flag to an enemy or rebel without proper authority, or, when engaged in battle, shall treacherously yield or pusillanimously cry for quarter.

Ninth. Or shall, in time of battle, display cowardice, negligence, or disaffection, or withdraw from or keep out of danger to which he should expose himself, or shall desert his duty or station, or entice others to do so, or shall not properly observe the orders of his commanding officer and use his utmost exertions to carry them into execution when ordered to prepare for, join in, or when actually engaged in battle, or while in sight of an enemy.

Tenth. Or when commanding a fleet, squadron or vessel acting singly, shall, upon the probability of an engagement, or on sight of any armed vessel of an enemy or rebel, neglect to prepare and clear his ship for action, or shall not, upon signal for battle, use his utmost exertions to join in battle, or shall fail to encourage, in his own person, his inferior officers and men to fight courageously, or shall not do his utmost to overtake and capture or destroy any vessel which it is his duty to encounter, or shall not afford all practicable relief and assistance to vessels belonging to the United States or their allies when engaged in battle.

ARTICLE 4.

Spies, and all persons who shall come or be found in the capacity of spies, or who shall bring or deliver any seducing letter or message from an enemy or rebel, or endeavor to corrupt any person in the navy to betray his trust, shall suffer death, or such other punishment as a court-martial shall adjudge.

ARTICLE 5.

The crime of murder, when committed by an officer, seaman, marine, or other person belonging to any public ship or vessel of the United States, without the territorial jurisdiction of the same, may be punished with death by the sentence of a court-martial.

ARTICLE 6.

In any case where a naval court-martial is authorized to adjudge the punishment of death it may sentence the person convicted to imprisonment for life, or for a stated term, at hard labor, and such sentences of imprisonment and hard labor may be carried into execution in any prison or penitentiary under the control of the United States, or the use of which shall be allowed by the legislature of a State; and persons convicted by a court-martial and imprisoned in the prison or penitentiary of any State or Territory shall in all respects be subject to the same discipline and treatment and under the same control as convicts sentenced by the courts of the State or Territory in which such prison or penitentiary is situated.

ARTICLE 7.

Such punishment as a court-martial shall adjudge may be inflicted on any person in the navy—

First. Who shall be guilty of cruelty, oppression, or maltreatment of those subject to his orders.

Second. Or shall be guilty of profane swearing, falsehood, drunkenness, gambling, fraud, theft, or any other scandalous conduct tending to the destruction of good morals.

Third. Or shall quarrel with, strike, or assault any other person in the navy, or use provoking or reproachful words, gestures, or menaces, or endeavor to foment quarrels between other persons in the navy, or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel, or act as second in a duel.

Fourth. Or shall treat with contempt his superior officer, or be disrespectful to him in language or deportment whilst in the execution of his office, or shall join in or abet any combination to weaken the lawful authority of or lessen the respect due to his commanding officer.

Fifth. Or shall be negligent or careless in obeying orders, or culpably inefficient in the performance of duty.

Sixth. Or shall knowingly make or sign, or shall aid, abet, direct, or procure the making or signing of any false muster, or shall execute, or attempt or countenance any fraud against the United States, or shall waste, embezzle, or fraudulently buy, sell, or receive any ammunition, provisions, or other public stores, or, having the power to prevent it, shall knowingly permit such waste, embezzlement, sale or receipt.

Seventh. Or shall, through inattention or negligence, suffer any vessel of the navy to be stranded or run upon a rock or shoal, or hazarded.

Eighth. Or shall, when on shore, plunder, abuse, or maltreat any inhabitant or injure his property in any way.

Ninth. Or shall refuse or fail to use his utmost exertions to detect, apprehend, and bring to punishment all offenders, and aid and assist all persons appointed for the purpose.

Tenth. Or shall, in time of peace, desert or attempt to desert, or aid or entice others to desert, or shall be absent from his station or duty without leave, or after his leave shall have expired.

Eleventh. Or shall, when rated or acting as master at arms, refuse to receive such prisoners as shall be committed to his charge, or having received them shall suffer them to escape, or dismiss them without orders from the proper authority.

Twelfth. Or shall, when attached to any ship or vessel appointed as convoy to merchant or other vessels, fail diligently to perform his duty, or shall demand or exact any compensation for his services, or shall maltreat the officers or crews of such merchant or other vessels.

Thirteenth. Or shall take, receive, or permit to be received on board the vessel to which he is attached any goods or merchandise for freight, sale, or traffic, except gold, silver, or jewels, for freight or safe-keeping, or shall demand or receive any compensation for the receipt or transportation of any other article than gold, silver or jewels, without authority from the President of the United States or the Secretary of the Navy.

Fourteenth. Or shall violate or refuse obedience to any lawful general order or regulation issued by the Secretary of the Navy.

ARTICLE 8.

All offences committed by persons belonging to the navy, which are not specified in the foregoing articles, shall be punished as a court martial shall direct; but in no case shall punishment by flogging be inflicted, nor shall any court martial adjudge punishment by flogging.

ARTICLE 9.

All offences committed by persons belonging to the navy while on shore, shall be punished in the same manner as if they had been committed at sea.

ARTICLE 10.

No commander of a vessel of the navy shall inflict any other punishment upon a commissioned or warrant officer than private reprimand, suspension from duty, arrest, or confinement, neither of which shall continue longer than ten days, except a further period be necessary to bring the offender to a court martial; nor shall he inflict, or cause or permit to be inflicted upon any petty officer or person of inferior rating, or marine, any punishment for a single offence or at any one time other than one of the following punishments, viz:

First. Reduction of any rating established by himself.

Second. Confinement with or without irons, single or double, such confinement not to exceed ten days unless necessary in the case of a prisoner to be tried by a court martial.

Third. Solitary confinement on bread and water not exceeding five days.

Fourth. Solitary confinement not exceeding seven days.

Fifth. Deprivation of liberty on shore.

Sixth. Extra duties.

No other punishment shall be permitted on board of vessels belonging to the navy, except by sentence of a general or summary court martial. Summary courts martial may disrate any rated person for incompetency. All punishments inflicted by the commander, or by his order, except reprimands, shall be fully entered upon the ship's log.

ARTICLE 11.

General courts martial may be convened as often as the President of the United States, the Secretary of the Navy, or commander in chief of a fleet or squadron shall deem it necessary: Provided, That in the waters of the United States no commander-in-chief of a fleet or squadron shall convene a general court martial unless by express authority of the President of the United States: Provided, also, That no general court martial shall consist of more than thirteen nor less than five commissioned officers as members, and as many officers shall be summoned on every such court as can be convened without injury to the service, so as not to exceed thirteen; and the senior officer shall always preside, the others taking place according to their rank; and in no case where it can be avoided without injury to the service shall more than one half the members, exclusive of the President, be junior to the officer to be tried.

ARTICLE 12.

The president of the court is authorized and required to administer the following oath or affirmation to the judge advocate or person officiating as such:

"I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will keep a true record of the evidence given to and the proceedings of this court; nor will I divulge or by any means disclose the sentence of the court until it shall have been approved by the proper authority; nor will I at any time divulge or disclose the vote or opinion of any particular member of the court, unless required to give evidence thereof before a court of justice in due course of law."

This oath or affirmation being duly administered, each member of the court, before proceeding to trial, shall take the following oath or affirmation, which the judge advocate, or person officiating as such, is hereby authorized to administer:

"I, A. B., do swear (or affirm) that I will truly try, without prejudice or partiality, the case now depending, according to the evidence which shall come before the court, the rules for the government of the navy, and my own conscience; and that I will not by any means divulge or disclose the sentence of the court until it shall have been approved by the proper authority; nor will I at any time divulge or disclose the vote or opinion of any particular member of the court, unless required to give evidence thereof before a court of justice in due course of law."

ARTICLE 13.

All testimony given to a general court martial shall be on oath or affirmation, which the president of the court is hereby authorized to administer; and if any person shall refuse to give his evidence, or shall prevaricate, or shall behave with contempt to the court, it shall and may be lawful for the court to imprison such offender at their discretion: Provided, That the imprisonment in no case shall exceed two months. And every person who shall commit willful perjury on examination on oath or affirmation before such court, or who shall corruptly procure or suborn any person to commit such willful perjury, shall and may be prosecuted by indictment or information in any court of justice of the United States, and shall suffer such penalties as are authorized by the laws of the United States in cases of perjury or the subornation thereof. And in every prosecution for perjury or the subornation thereof under this act, it shall be sufficient to set forth the offence charged on the defendant, without setting forth the authority by which the court was held, or the particular matters brought or intended to be brought before the said court.

ARTICLE 14.

The following oath shall be administered to witnesses before courts martial and courts of inquiry:

"You do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that the evidence you shall give in the case now before this court shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and that you will state everything within your knowledge and recollection in relation to the charges. So help you God." (or this you do under the pains and penalties of perjury.)

ARTICLE 15.

The person accused shall be furnished with a true copy of the charges, with the specifications, at the time he is put under arrest; nor shall any other charges than those so exhibited be urged against the person to be tried before the court, unless it appear to the court that intelligence of such charge had not reached the officer ordering the court when the person so tried was put under arrest, or that some witness material to the support of such charge, who was at that time absent, can be produced; in which case reasonable time shall be given to the person to be tried to make his defense against such new charge. Every officer so arrested is to deliver up his sword to his commanding officer and to confine himself to the limits assigned him, under the pain of dismissal from the service.

ARTICLE 16.

When the proceedings of any general court martial shall have commenced, they shall not be suspended or delayed on account of the absence of any of the members, provided five or more are assembled; but the court is enjoined to sit from day to day, Sundays excepted, until sentence be given, unless temporarily adjourned by the authority which convened the court. And no member of said court shall, after the proceedings are begun, absent himself therefrom unless in case of sickness or orders to go on duty from a superior officer, on pain of being cashiered.

ARTICLE 17.

If a member of a court martial shall, from any legal cause, fail to attend after the commencement of a case, and witnesses shall be examined during his absence, the court must, when he is ready to resume his seat, cause every person who may have been examined in his absence to be called into court, and the recorded testimony of each witness must be read over to him, and such witness must acknowledge the same to be correct, and be subject to such further examination as the said member may require. And without a compliance with this rule, and an entry of it upon the record, a member who shall have been absent during the examination of a witness shall not be allowed to sit again in that particular case.

ARTICLE 18.

Whenever a court-martial shall sentence an officer to be suspended, the court shall have the power to suspend his pay and emoluments for the whole or any part of the time of his suspension.

ARTICLE 19.

All sentences of courts martial which shall extend to the loss of life shall require the concurrence of two thirds of the members present, and no such sentence shall be carried into execution until confirmed by the President of the United States. All other sentences may be determined by a majority of votes, and carried into execution on confirmation of the commander of the fleet or officer ordering the court, except such as go to the dismission of a commissioned or warrant officer, which are first to be approved by the President of the United States.

ARTICLE 20.

Every officer who is by this act authorized to convene courts-martial shall have power, on revisal of its proceedings, to remit or mitigate, but not to commute, the sentence of any such court which by this act he is authorized to approve and confirm.

ARTICLE 21.

It shall be the duty of a court martial, in all cases of conviction, to adjudge a punishment adequate to the character and nature of the offence committed; but the members of a court may recommend the person convicted as deserving of clemency, and state on the record their reasons for so doing.

ARTICLE 22.

The judgment of every court martial shall be authenticated by the signature of the President, and all the members of the same who may be present when the said judgment shall be pronounced, and also of the judge advocate.

ARTICLE 23.

Courts of inquiry may be ordered by the President of the United States, the Secretary of the Navy, or the commander of a fleet or squadron, provided such court shall not consist of more than three members, who shall be commissioned officers, and a judge advocate, or person to do duty as such; and such courts shall have power to summon witnesses, administer oaths, and punish contempt in the same manner as courts martial. But such court shall merely state facts, and not give their opinion unless expressly required so to do in the order for convening; and the party whose conduct shall be the subject of inquiry, or his attorney, shall have permission to cross-examine all the witnesses.

ARTICLE 24.

The proceedings of the courts of inquiry shall be authenticated by the signature of the president of the court and judge advocate, and shall, in all cases not capital, or extending to the dismission of a commissioned or warrant officer, be evidence before a court martial, provided oral testimony cannot be obtained.

ARTICLE 25.

The judge advocate, or person officiating as such, shall administer to the members the following oath or affirmation:

"You do swear (or affirm) well and truly to examine and inquire, according to the evidence, into the matter now before you, without partiality or prejudice."

After which the president shall administer to the judge advocate, or person officiating as such, the following oath or affirmation:

"You do swear (or affirm) truly to record the proceedings of this court and the evidence to be given in the case in hearing."

Section 2. And be it further enacted, That the proceeds of all ships and vessels, and the goods taken on board of them, which shall be adjudged good prize, shall, when of equal or superior force to the vessel or vessels making the capture, be the sole property of the captors; and when of inferior force, shall be divided equally between the United States and the officers and men making the capture.

Section 3. And be it further enacted, That the prize money belonging to the officers and men shall be distributed in the following manner:

First. To the commanding officer of a fleet or squadron, one twentieth part of all prize money awarded to a vessel or vessels under his immediate command.

Second. To the commander of a single ship, one tenth part of all prize money awarded to the ship under his command, if such ship at the time of making the capture was under the immediate command of the commanding officer of a fleet or squadron, and three-twentieths if his ship was acting independently of such superior officer.

Third. The share of the commanding officer of the fleet or squadron, if any, and the share of the commander of the ship being deducted, the residue shall be distributed and apportioned among all others doing duty on board, and borne upon the books, according to their respective rates of pay in the service.

Fourth. When one or more vessels of the navy shall be within signal distance of another making a prize, all shall share in the prize, and the money awarded shall be apportioned among the officers and men of the several vessels according to the rates of pay of all on board who are borne upon the books after deducting one twentieth to the flag officer, if there be any such entitled to share.

Fifth. No commander of a fleet or squadron shall be entitled to receive any share of prizes taken by vessels not under his immediate command, nor of such prizes as may have been taken by ships or vessels intended to be placed under his command before they have acted under his immediate orders; nor shall a commander of a fleet or squadron, leaving the station where he had the command, have any share in the prizes taken by ships left on such station after he has gone out of the limits of his said command, nor after he has transferred his command to a successor.

Sixth. No officer or other person who shall have been temporarily absent on duty from the vessel on the books of which he continued to be borne while so absent shall be deprived, in consequence of such absence, of any prize money to which he would otherwise be entitled.

Section 4. And be it further enacted, That a bounty shall be paid by the United States for each person on board any ship or vessel of war belonging to an enemy at the commencement of an engagement, which shall be sunk or otherwise destroyed in such engagement by any ship or vessel belonging to the United States, or which it may be necessary to destroy in consequence of injuries sustained in action, of one hundred dollars if the enemy's vessel was of inferior force, and of two hundred dollars if of equal or superior force, to be divided among the officers and crew in the same manner as prize money; and when the actual number of men on board any such vessel cannot be satisfactorily ascertained, it shall be estimated according to the complement allowed to vessels of their class in the navy of the United States; and there shall be paid as bounty to the captors of any vessel of war captured from an enemy, which they may be instructed to destroy, or which shall be immediately destroyed for the public interest, but not in consequence of injuries received in action, fifty dollars for every person who shall be on board at the time of such capture.

Section 5. And be it further enacted, That the commanding officer of every vessel, or the senior officer of all vessels of the navy, which shall capture or seize upon any vessel or vessels as a prize, shall carefully preserve all the papers and writings found on board and transmit the whole of the originals unmutilated to the judge of the district to which such prize is ordered to proceed, with the necessary witnesses and a report of the circumstances attending the capture, stating the names of vessels claiming a share thereof; and the commanding officer of every vessel in the navy entitled or claiming an award of prize money shall as early as practicable after the capture transmit to the Navy Department a complete list of the officers and men of his vessel entitled to share in the prize, inserting the quality of every person rating, on pain of forfeiting his whole share of the prize money resulting from such capture and suffering such further punishment as a court martial shall adjudge.

Section 6. And be it further enacted, That any armed vessel in the service of the United States which shall make a capture, or assist in a capture, under circumstances which would entitle a vessel of the navy to prize money, shall be entitled to an award of prize money in the same manner as if she was a vessel of the navy; and such prize money shall be distributed and apportioned to the same persons and under the same rules and regulations as are provided for persons in the naval service, and paid under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy.

Section 7. And be it further enacted, That no person in the navy shall take out of a prize, or vessel seized as a prize, any money, plate, goods, or any part of her rigging, unless it be for the better preservation thereof, or absolutely necessary for the use of any of the vessels or armed forces of the United States, before the same shall be adjudged lawful prize by a competent court; but the whole, without fraud, concealment, or embezzlement, shall be brought in and judgment passed thereon; and every person offending herein shall forfeit his share of the capture and suffer such further punishment as a court martial shall adjudge.

Section 8. And be it further enacted, That no person in the navy shall strip off the clothes of, or pillage, or in any manner maltreat, persons taken on board a prize, on pain of such punishment as a court martial shall adjudge.

Section 9. And be it further enacted, That all rent money, salvage, bounty, or proceeds of forfeiture or confiscation, accruing or awarded to any vessel of the navy, shall be distributed and paid to the officers and men entitled thereto in the same manner as prize money, under the direction of the Secretary of the Navy.

Section 10. And be it further enacted, That any person entitled to wages or prize money may have the same paid to his assignee, provided the assignment be attested by the captain and paymaster; and in case of the assignment of wages, the power shall specify the precise time they commence. But the commander of every vessel is required to discourage his crew from selling any part of their wages or prize money, and never to attest any power of attorney until he is satisfied that the same is not granted in consideration of money given for the purchase of wages or prize money.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That all money accruing or which has already accrued to the United States from sale of prizes shall be and remain forever a fund for the payment of pensions to the officers, seamen, and marines who may be entitled to receive the same; and if the said fund shall be insufficient for the purpose, the public faith is hereby pledged to make up the deficiency; but if it should be more than sufficient, the surplus shall be applied to the making of further provision for the better comfort of the disabled officers, seamen and marines.

Sec. 12. And be it further enacted, That the district attorneys of the several districts of the United States in which any cases of prize are or may be depending, shall, as soon as may be after the passage of this act, furnish to the Navy Department a complete list of all the prize cases which have been determined, or may still be pending within their respective districts, with a statement of the condition of each, in such form and embracing such particulars as the Secretary of the Navy may require, and shall as often as once in each month thereafter furnish a further statement of the condition of every case in their respective districts and of any further proceedings had therein since their last returns. And the Secretary of the Navy is hereby authorized to appoint an agent or to employ counsel when the captors do not employ counsel themselves in any case in which he may consider it necessary to assist the district attorneys and protect the interests of the captors, with such compensation as he may think just and reasonable. And it shall be the duty of the several marshals of the United States to furnish to the Navy Department on request, or to its agent, a full and particular statement of the disposition of every prize vessel and cargo, in such form and with such details as the Secretary of the Navy may require, and as often as he may require the same; and said marshals shall also furnish to the Navy Department, or their aforesaid agent, a full and particular statement of all fees, charges, and allowances of every description claimed by them in each case of prize before the same are allowed by the court; and no such charges for disbursements of any kind shall be allowed unless accompanied by the affidavit of the marshal that the same have been actually and necessarily incurred in the case; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to attend on the settlement and allowance of such bills and protect the interests of the United States and of the captors against any improper and unlawful claims. And whenever a final decree of condemnation shall have been made, or any interlocutory sale has been ordered, the property shall be sold by the marshal pursuant to the practice and proceedings in admiralty, and the gross proceeds of such sale shall be forthwith deposited with the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at or nearest to the place where such sale is made, and the money so deposited shall remain in the Treasury of the United States until a final decree of distribution or until a decree of restitution shall be made and a certified copy thereof furnished, upon which the costs of court and the lawful charges and expenses shall be paid, and the balance distributed according to said decree: Provided, That the annual salaries of district attorneys, prize commissioners, and marshals shall in no case be so increased under the several acts for compensation in prize as to exceed in the aggregate the following sums, and any balance beyond the several sums shall be paid into the Treasury, viz: District attorneys, six thousand dollars; prize commissioners, three thousand dollars; marshals, six thousand dollars.

Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That every officer, seaman, or marine, disabled in the line of his duty, shall be entitled to receive for life, or during his disability, a pension from the United States according to the nature and degree of his disability, not exceeding in any case his monthly pay.

Sec. 14. And be it further enacted, That in all cases where the crews of the ships or vessels of the United States shall be separated from their vessels by the latter being wrecked, lost or destroyed, all the command, power, and authority given to the officers of such ships or vessels shall remain and be in full force as effectually as if such ship or vessel were not so wrecked, lost, or destroyed, until such ship's company be regularly discharged from, or ordered again into, the service, or until a court martial or a court of inquiry shall be held to inquire into the loss of such ship or vessel; and if by the sentence of such court or other satisfactory evidence, it shall appear to the Secretary of the Navy that all or any of the officers and men of such ship's company did their utmost to preserve her, and after the loss thereof behaved themselves agreeably to the discipline of the navy, then the pay and emoluments of such officers and men, or such of them as shall have done their duty, as aforesaid, shall go on until their discharge or death; and every officer or man who shall, after the loss of such vessel, act contrary to the discipline of the navy, shall be punished at the discretion of a court martial in the same manner as if such vessel had not been so lost.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That all the pay and emoluments of the officers and men, of any of the ships or vessels of the United States taken by an enemy, who shall appear by the sentence of a court martial, or otherwise, to have done their utmost to preserve and defend their ship or vessel, and after the taking thereof, have behaved themselves obediently to their superiors agreeably to the discipline of the navy, shall go on and be paid them until their death, exchange, or discharge.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That each commanding officer shall, whenever a man enters on board, cause an accurate entry to be made in the ship's books of his name, the date, place and term of his enlistment, the place or vessel from which he was received on board, his rating, and his descriptive list, to include his age, place of birth, and citizenship, with such remarks as may be necessary; and shall, before sailing, transmit to the Secretary of the Navy a complete list or muster roll of the rated men under his command, showing the particulars above set forth, and also a list of officers and passengers, with the date of their entering; and he shall cause similar lists to be made out on the first day of every third month, to be transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy as opportunities may occur, accounting in such lists or muster rolls for any casualties which may have taken place since the last list or muster roll. He shall not receive on board any man transferred from any other vessel or station to him unless such man be furnished with an account signed by the captain and paymaster of the vessel or station from which he came, specifying the date of his entry, the period and term of service, the sum paid, the balance due him, the quality in which he was rated, and his descriptive list. He shall cause to be accurately minuted on the ship's books the names of and times at which any death or desertion may occur; and in case of death shall take care that the paymaster secure all the property of the deceased for the benefit of his legal representative or representatives. He shall cause frequent inspections to be made into the condition of the provisions, and use every precaution for their preservation. He shall, whenever he orders officers and men to take charge of a prize and proceed to the United States, and whenever officers or men are sent from his ship for whatever cause, take care that each man be furnished with a complete statement of his account, specifying the date of his enlistment, the period and term of his service; and his descriptive list, which account shall be signed by the commanding officer and paymaster. He shall cause the articles for the government of the navy to be hung up in some public part of the ship and read once a month to his ship's company. He shall cause a convenient place to be set apart for sick or disabled men, to which he shall have them removed, with their hammocks and bedding, when the surgeon shall so advise; and shall direct that some of the crew attend them and keep the place clean. He shall frequently consult with the surgeon in regard to the sanitary condition of the crew, and shall use all proper means to preserve their health. And whenever the crew is finally paid off, he shall attend in person, or appoint a proper officer, to see that justice be done to the men and to the United States in the settlement of the accounts. Any commanding officer offending herein shall be punished at the discretion of a court martial.

Sec. 17. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the commanding officer of any fleet, squadron, or vessel acting singly, when on service, to send to an Atlantic port of the United States, in some public or other vessel, all petty officers and persons of inferior ratings desiring to go there at the expiration of their terms of service, or as soon thereafter as may be, unless, in his opinion, the detention of such persons for a longer period should be necessary for the public interest, in which case he may detain them, or any of them, until the vessel to which they belong shall return to such Atlantic port; and all persons so detained beyond their terms of service shall be subject in all respects to the laws and regulations for the government of the navy until their return to an Atlantic port and their regular discharge; and persons who shall be so detained beyond their terms of service, or who shall, after the termination of their service, voluntarily re-enter to serve until the return to an Atlantic port of the vessel to which they belong and their regular discharge therein, shall, for the time during which they are so detained, or shall so serve beyond their original terms of service, which shall in no case exceed thirty days after their arrival in an Atlantic port, receive an addition of one fourth of their former pay: Provided, That the shipping articles shall hereafter contain the substance of this section.

Sec. 18. And be it further enacted, That all officers not holding commissions or warrants, or who are not entitled to them, except such as are temporarily appointed to the duties of a commissioned or warrant officer, or secretaries and clerks, shall be deemed petty officers, and shall be entitled to obedience in the execution of their offices from those of inferior rating.

Sec. 19. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Navy shall cause each commissioned or warranted officer of the navy, on his entry into the service, to be furnished with a copy of the regulations and general orders of the department then in force, and thereafter with a copy of all such as may be issued.

Sec. 20. And be it further enacted, That all provisions of previous laws which are inconsistent with those of this act shall be and are hereby repealed.

Approved, July 17, 1862.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will only take time to ask the afflicted who have not used it to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally; bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night. It will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhea or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve the pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe toothache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time. It will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.
